Convention Center

FACILITY FLOOR PLANS

ORLANDO

At the Orange County Convention Center, you'll find seven million square feet of combined meeting and public space in one of the most beautiful and entertaining places in the world—Orlando, Florida. With its two state-of-the-art buildings (The North/South and The West), this award-winning facility offers an amazing 2.1 million square feet of total exhibition space and an awe-inspiring 1,500-foot open-air bridge with moving sidewalks connecting the two buildings. And despite its tremendous size, the Center is remarkably easy to get in and out of, with a total parking capacity of 8,227.

But the numbers only tell part of the story. With its distinctive architecture and tropical ambiance, the Center combines flexibility and functionality with a real Florida feel. Moveable walls and an array of venues allow meeting planners to create just the right setting for expos, presentations, roundtables or special events. Our broad offering of show management and exhibitor services—ranging from catering to telecommunications—is considered one of the finest in the convention industry, and contributes to the Center's reputation as one of the best places in the country to hold a meeting.

Naturally, this totally modern facility offers the most advanced technology, including wireless mobility throughout both buildings. And, when you're ready to take a break from business, you'll find theme parks, shopping, dining, nightlife, golfing and much more, just minutes away. Plus, the Orlando area boasts more than 115,000 hotel rooms, 9,100 of which are within walking distance to the Center.

With all these features, it's no surprise that the Orange County Convention Center is one of the top convention facilities in the country.

WEST BUILDING

Since the first phase of the Orange County Convention Center’s West Building opened in 1983, the Center has welcomed more than 15 million visitors. Over the last two decades, this building has gone through several expansions in order to accommodate the growing demands for conventions and tradeshow, yet it has always retained both the flavor and functionality of the original architecture and design. Today, this tech-marvel, designed to handle both mega shows and smaller events, offers every convenience you would expect from a world-class facility, including 1.1 million square feet of contiguous exhibition space, 49 meeting rooms, 141 breakouts, the 2,643-seat Chapin Theater, a 160-seat lecture hall and wireless mobility throughout the facility. A focal point of the West Building is the beautifully appointed Valencia Room, a 62,182 square foot multi-purpose dining and general session venue that can hold up to 6,000 people at one time. The facility’s half mile of loading dock space, the largest in the country, is strategically located on one level.

NORTH/SOUTH BUILDING

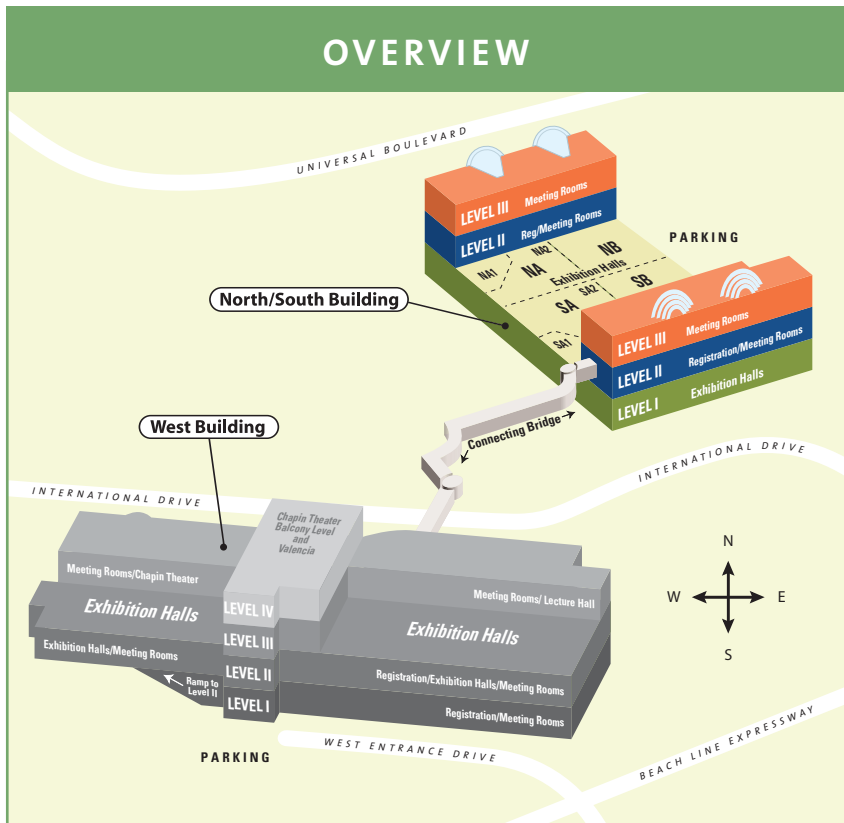

The Center’s North/South Building provides 950,282 square feet of exhibition space, including two acoustically engineered general assembly areas, 25 meeting rooms and 94 breakouts. With its 80-foot high glass walls and distinctive arched entrances, this building has been heralded as a Central Florida landmark. The flexibility and efficiencies of this building start with wide column spacing, a full utility grid on 30-foot centers, an extensive catwalk network and computer-controlled lighting systems. Other amenities include four food courts, two innovative, full-service restaurants overlooking the exhibit floor and a dramatic open-air pedestrian bridge for easy access to the West Building. To make event load-in a breeze, the facility even offers two underground loading docks, 76 truck bays, nine drive-in truck entrances, two roll-up doors and an airplane door.
