Math-Stat Club / SIAM Student Chapter Next Scheduled Meeting

Tuesday, January 20th, 2009

Speaker: Dr. Kim, Nak-Kyeong

Title: IMPROVING BIOLOGICAL SEQUENCE ALIGNMENTS

Time: 12:30 – 1:30 p.m. (Pizza Served)

Location: Constant Hall 1048

Message from the Officers:

Welcome to another exciting year!

First of all, Happy New Year to everyone!

We will be continuing with our monthly meetings as we did last semester. For those of you new to the club, we will be meeting generally on the third Tuesday of every month. At these meetings, a speaker will present some work that he or she has been working on that will introduce students to different possibilities of study in mathematics/statistics and applications thereof.

Wish you all the best for your academic journey!

Also, be on the lookout for information on the SIAM Conference which will be held on April 17th, and will include a Problem Solving Contest!

Thanks to Barbara and Gayle for organizing the meetings this semester, and providing us with good pizzas!
