

BYLAWS
The Supervisory Committee (SVC) of IFCSS
(Amended on July 21, 1990)

1. A Chief Member is elected by a simple majority of SVC. The Chief Member has the same power as any of the other members.
2. The Chief Member is responsible for convening and coordinating the regular meetings of SVC, and for publicizing the resolutions made by SVC. The Chief Member must convene a non-regular SVC meeting if it is the motion of two or more of the SVC members.
3. In general, a resolution is passed based on simple majority rule within SVC, except when a recall or impeachment of an IFCSS official is involved. In that case, any resolution can only be passed according to the procedures specified by the IFCSS Constitution.
4. SVC sends at least one of its members to audit each IFCSS Headquarter meeting and the IFCSS Council meeting. SVC reserves the privilege to audit any IFCSS Working Committee's meeting. Each member of SVC may read the records of Headquarter and Council meetings.
5. Any member of SVC may make an official judgement on a case presented to her/him. The other members of SVC should be informed of any judgement upon the case within a week after it is made; an official record should be maintained by the Chief Member.
6. If a party involved in a case objects the judgement made by one member of SVC, or other member(s) of SVC has different opinion(s) about the judgement, the Chief Member can be requested to convene a SVC meeting.
7. The resolutions and judgements of SVC are made available to the public within IFCSS members two weeks after they are made. The cases and resolutions with important implications should be discussed and resolved by meetings of all SVC members, and the results should be reported to public by the Chief Member.
8. The reimbursement for each SVC member's working expenses should not exceed $30 per month in average. The reimbursement beyond for some extraordinary expenses must discussed and approved by a SVC meeting.
9. Each term of SVC must transfer its official documents to the next term in time.
10. Revision of this bylaw can be made only if it is agreed upon by four or more of SVC members.
